Seek To Break Logjam On Budget In Ohio Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Conferees on Gov. John J. Gilligan's $9.9 billion budget bill hope to get moving today after three sessions that brought no decisions.

"We haven't decided anything," Speaker Pro Tem Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, said Wednesday. "We've got to get down to business on this thing."

Riffe's comment came on a busy day that included action on several major bills, including one that would repeal Ohio's Sunday closing laws. The House passed it 62-32 and sent it to the Senate.

Also approved by the House were bills to require razing of gasoline stations abandoned for six months, and to give a five per cent increase to members of the State Teachers Retirement System, School Employees Retirement System, and Public Employees Retirement System. That measure, which had 58 sponsors, received 93-0 approval of the lower chamber.

The Senate voted 31-0 to increase benefits of widows and dependents of members of the State Police and Firemen's Disability and Pension Fund. The boost for widows would be from $130 to $160 a month with the amount for each dependent child going from $45 to $55. Sole survivors would get $150 instead of the present $120.

Also passed by the Senate and sent to the House were measures revising procedures for licensing nursing homes, requiring newspaper notice of sales for the purpose of settling delinquent taxes, and allowing veterinarians to dispose of animals unclaimed after 10 days, provided owners are notified.

The Senate received resolutions providing for the reorganization and administration of state courts and permitting judges below the common pleas level to receive salary increases during their current terms of office.

The House approved a Senate bill permitting the director of the Division of Wildlife to set regulations to protect endangered wildlife species in Ohio. The bill deletes state authority for the payment of bounties except in the case of foxes. The House defeated a proposal clarifying the right of county commissioners to acquire land for airports.

Riffe and Rep. Myrl Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, who is chairman of the budget conference committee, accused Republican conferees of "foot dragging" at Tuesday and Wednesday sessions.

Shoemaker, without mentioning names, said he was miffed because some members of the six-member committee came to Tuesday night's session after a dinner that included drinks. He cancelled a Wednesday night meeting. "I'm not going to listen to any more of those martini

Expect Nuclear Pact To Come From Summit

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — The leader of the world's two most powerful nations, Richard M. Nixon and Leonid I. Brezhnev, are poised to sign a breakthrough document designed to eventually corral the threat of nuclear devastation.

The agreement, which provides instructions to technical experts stalemated in Geneva, at the Strategic Arms Limitation talks (SALT), was molded by Nixon and Brezhnev on the third day of their summit talks.

The leaders planned to return their travelling summit to Washington from this hideaway mountain compound today to formally sign the broadly worded accord in the gilded grandeur of the White House. Signing also was scheduled for a bilateral pact pledging cooperation on the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Nixon and Brezhnev, who came to this presidential retreat 75 miles northwest of Washington Tuesday night, spent most of Wednesday afternoon and evening talking about international issues and the stalled efforts to achieve permanent limitations on their countries' massive nuclear arsenals.

As they began Wednesday's session, Brezhnev told newsmen that his talks with Nixon "without question," would produce "good results."

The agreement giving instructions to the Geneva SALT negotiators is not a treaty, but is considered essential to get the stalled arms limitations talks moving again.

It could rival in importance the pair of pacts reached last spring in Moscow when Nixon and Brezhnev held their first summit. Those accords placed permanent limits on nuclear defensive systems and a five-year limitation on some offensive missiles.

Before coming to Camp David, Nixon and Brezhnev witnessed the signing of four modest bilateral agreements on agricultural, oceanographic, transportation and cultural exchanges.

Then, while they were at the presidential retreat Wednesday, lower-level officials signed a reciprocal income tax agreement.

Brezhnev is to host a banquet for Nixon and other ranking U.S. officials tonight at the Soviet Embassy, before meeting Friday morning with 40 select representatives of the American business community—presumably to encourage U.S. investment in his country.

Late Friday, the two leaders head west for Nixon's San Clemente, Calif., villa where they will continue the talks until Sunday, when Brezhnev heads back for Washington and a Monday departure from the United States.

Brezhnev Makes Pitch For Trade

CAMP DAVID, MD. (AP) — Communist leader Leonid I. Brezhnev has made clear in his summit talks with President Nixon that the Soviet Union wants more trade with the United States.

Brezhnev is pitching hard and thinking big, but the pitching is aimed not so much at Nixon, who evidently doesn't have to be convinced, or at American businessmen, who can smell a good deal cooking.

It is directed at Congress, where a majority of anti-Communist hard-liners and members sympathetic to Jews and other Soviet minorities insist on complete freedom of emigration before granting Moscow trade concessions.

Brezhnev concentrated his politicking on the 22 senators who lunched with him at Blair House Tuesday, claiming some 95 per cent of the Jews who want to leave can do so.

And even while he was talking nuclear weaponry and reductions in Europe-based divisions with Nixon in the Maryland mountains Wednesday, his spokesman, Leonid M. Zamyatin, director general of Tass, continued to pitch hard for trade.

Choosing his words carefully, the suave Soviet official suggested large-scale trade agreements and peaceful coexistence go hand in hand.

"You see," he said, "when the development of trade is being discussed in a long-term aspect, say for a period of 10 to 15 years, this creates a tremendous potential of trust, and we regard this as one of the advantages of developing trade and economic relations on a long-term basis."

Even before the summit talks, two American firms, El Paso Natural Gas and Occidental Petroleum signed a letter of intent to import more than $10 billion worth of natural gas from the Soviet Union over 25 years.

In another move, the Nixon administration formally endorsed an $8-billion 20-year fertilizer deal between the Soviet Union and Occidental Petroleum Corp.

In promoting trade, Moscow is looking mostly for American technology, grain and fodder. The technology is needed to tap the Soviet Union's enormous resources, the grain to feed the Russian people. Although a fairly good crop is coming, U.S. experts think the Soviet Union may have to import about 15 million tons from the United States.

Washington, on the other hand, is interested in Siberia's petroleum reserves.

Report Nixon Was Bugged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The late FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover once told President Nixon that electronic surveillance had been used against Nixon in the 1968 presidential campaign, John W. Dean III has quoted the President as saying.

Nixon is said to have replied he would have to use bugging to his own advantage sometime in the future.

That exchange is reported in an official summary of Dean's closed-door testimony before the Senate Watergate committee last Saturday.

The summary gives few details. Sources close to the investigation said Wednesday the conversation was not pursued at the executive session and the fired White House counsel indicated he would explain it further at the committee's televised hearings next week.

The White House has refused to comment on Dean's testimony until after he appears "in public under oath."

The summary gave this account of a meeting between Nixon, Dean and former presidential Chief of Staff H.R. Haldeman last Sept. 15, the day a federal grand jury returned indictments against seven men in the Watergate break-in and bugging case:

"Dean met with the President after the indictments had been handed down. Nixon said Haldeman reported what a good job Dean had done."

"Nixon said that Hoover had told him that Nixon had been bugged in the 1968 campaign, and Nixon said that sometime in the future they would have to use it to their advantage."

A source close to the investigation was asked if the summary meant Nixon planned to use the report that he was bugged as a political issue or planned to use bugging.

"He meant bugging others," the source said, referring to Dean's account of the conversation.

The summary also said Dean told investigators that the White House and the Committee for the Re-election of the President sabotaged a House committee's pre-election investigation of the Watergate affair, on President Nixon's orders.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, wanted to conduct a full-scale investigation of the June 17, 1972, break-in at Democratic headquarters after his staff learned that campaign funds routed through a Mexican bank were used to help finance the operation.

Patman became embroiled in a struggle with a Republican member of his committee, Rep. Garry Brown of Michigan, over whether the probe was to continue, and the battle climaxed Oct. 3 with a 20 to 15 committee vote against granting subpoena power for the investigation.

Brown said in an interview Wednesday that his fight with Patman started before Dean's meeting with the President and that he knew of no pressure applied to anyone on the committee by the White House.

High Court Rules Lukens Off Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court ruled that state Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens is not eligible to be a candidate for any political office in 1974.

The high court Wednesday, in a unanimous decision, upheld Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's ruling that Lukens was ineligible because he did not file his 1972 Senate race expense account on time.

Lukens can, under law, complete his present term. He has announced his candidacy on the Republican ticket for governor in 1974.

He also indicated he might seek a U.S. Senate seat if Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio, did not seek reelection.

Lukens did file an expense statement—listing no money received and no money spent—12 days after the deadline, which by law is 45 days after an election.

He said he mailed an earlier statement, which the Butler County Board of Elections said it did not receive.

Lukens was married to a Columbus model Saturday and is now honeymooning in Switzerland.

His attorney, John Zonak, said he will have to confer with Lukens when he returns, but he anticipates further court action, either to the U.S. Supreme Court or to a federal district court.

"I have the utmost respect for the Ohio Supreme Court, but sometimes we don't always see eye to eye," Zonak said, adding that he was not surprised by the decision.

Lukens, a former two-term congressman and a one-time president of the national Young Republicans club, finished second in a three-man GOP gubernatorial primary in 1970.

He is considered by professionals in both parties as an aggressive campaigner.

Lukens, 42, went to the Ohio Supreme Court when Brown, a fellow Republican, refused to accept his candidacy petitions for governor.

The court said Lukens' contention that Ohio law requiring personal expense statements from a candidate violated the state constitution was not supported by his arguments.

In other business the court ruled that the federal Pay Board can't prevent the state from giving pay raises to state employees.

In its decision the court ordered the state to pay full salary to three Ohio State University employees who had been denied pay increases by a Pay Board directive.

The court held that "a federal administrative body lacks jurisdiction to prevent enforcement of otherwise valid state statutes establishing the compensation for classified state employees."

The court also dismissed a suit challenging a Democratic-masterminded legislative reapportionment plan that went into effect in 1971.

The suit was filed by former Rep. Lloyd George Kerns of Richmond, who was represented by Republican party attorney John McElroy, one-time chief aide to former Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The dismissal came under threat of contempt by U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti, who upheld the plan and took jurisdiction over the matter.

McElroy said after Battisti's order that he had no alternative but to ask the Supreme Court to dismiss the action. It paves the way for appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Julie Eisenhower Firmly Backs Dad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Julie Nixon Eisenhower is the lone member of the President's family speaking out about Watergate these days and staunchly backing him up.

Like a political campaigner, she is accepting numerous public appearances, has appeared on television and speaks to a varied group several times a week—even several times a day lately.

Julie is stepping up her schedule, while Pat Nixon is being seen less frequently.

The President's 24-year-old daughter has been receiving ovations—even kisses—for her efforts.

In two White House sessions this week with teen-agers—presidential scholars and Republican youth leaders—Julie took on questions, press-conference style in the East Room where her father has held his infrequent televised news conferences.

"If we took a poll now about how Watergate would affect Republicans (candidates), the results probably wouldn't be very good," Julie told the Teen-Age Republicans from across the country Wednesday.

"But," she explained, "that's because we have a lot of charges coming out of the hearings. We have a lot of hearsay. We don't have all the facts yet. We haven't heard from all the people who've been accused."

She got what she considered "a vote of confidence" for the President from the 240 teen-age GOP leaders who came to the White House reception.

For the next three years, Julie said: "I hope to be very active in my father's administration—taking a lot of speaking engagements and meeting groups."

"Did you and Mr. Eisenhower ever consider running for office?" she was asked.

"I think we would consider it," said the President's daughter. But she said there weren't any definite plans.

Right now, after the White House, Julie said, she might go back to teaching. Her parents will be going to California. But her husband David suggested a retirement role for Nixon—as baseball commissioner.

Elvis Replaces Stolen Louisiana Camp Equipment

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Singer Elvis Presley, on learning that thieves had ravaged a Louisiana camp for needy boys, pledged $1,000 to get it ready for opening day.

"Elvis called me after reading about the thieves in the newspaper," said Col. Tom Parker, Presley's manager. "He told me to check into this and send them a check, and that's what I'm doing," Parker said in a statement telephoned here Wednesday.

Officials said robbers broke into the camp in Holden Monday night and stole supplies donated for sessions that are to begin July 15. The camp is operated by volunteers of the Louisiana State Police.

Keaton Captured At Cairo

Cleo Vernon Keaton, 35, of Dayton, who escaped last Friday from Lima State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, was captured Wednesday night in Cairo.

Keaton was found guilty by a Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Jury of the 1965 slaying of Maurice Francis of Williamsport. He was sentenced to death in the electric chair by Judge William Ammer, a sentence that was negated by the United States Supreme Court decision that capital punishment is unconstitutional.

Keaton was transferred from the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus to Lima State Hospital over a year ago.

Cairo is a village of about 600 persons located eight miles north of Lima in Allen County. Authorities who made the arrest said Keaton offered no resistance.

Sneek-A-Peek

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Nothing makes a book more attractive to a young reader than big, colorful pictures. Stories come and go, but pictures definitely sell the book. Many children choose books mainly because of the pictures they see in them. Our picture-book shelves hold a lot of beautiful new additions.

Richard Scarry's books are always favorites in the picture-book world. His pictures have a captivating quality about them. There always seems to be more to them than you first notice. Everytime you look at them, you see something new. The newest Scarry book we have received is entitled, "Hop Aboard, Here We Go!" It tells about airplanes, trains, fire engines, and boats.

"Run Zebra, Run" is a science-picture book showing various animals in their natural habitat. Tony Chen wrote and illustrated this book. His illustrations include excellent pictures of zebras, otters, bats, kangaroos, and many other wild animals.

Brian Wildsmith is an award-winning artist of children's books. His pictures are works of art; beautiful, carefully blended colors and lines. Although it is out of season, I must include his newest, "The Twelve Days of Christmas" in my discussion of excellent picture books. This book is simply beautiful.

"Hamilton Duck" by Arthur Getz contains not only large, colorful pictures, but also very large, bold print. This is especially good for the very young reader, since large print is generally considered to be easier for young eyes to read. (Of course, it is also easier for very old eyes to read!)

If you have a train-lover in your family, "All Kinds of Trains" should satisfy his hunger for information and pictures. It illustrates the history of the railroad, and its present and future. It shows the various uses of trains; for pleasure, and for work. It was written by Ron White, and illustrated by John Young.

Did you know that our world began as a piece of debris? That is the theory presented in "Know About The World", a Golden Science Book which tells the story of the life of our planet from its very beginning. The world was originally a piece of a star which was thrown off into space when the star exploded. Thus, it was debris. From debris to the present day is clearly explained and illustrated in this book. The section showing the history of man is particularly interesting.

Picture books add so much to life; they make us glad to be living on this piece of debris!

Jagger Unconcerned About Paternity Suit

LONDON (AP) — An apparently unconcerned Mick Jagger flew to Rome "on business" a few hours after American singer Marcia Hunt claimed in court that the Rolling Stones rock star was the father of her two-year-old daughter.

Ignoring a barrage of questions from reporters at London's Heathrow Airport Tuesday, Jagger said only, "What's the title of her latest record?"

Library Services Face Cutback

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Emergency U.S. Senate action is needed to save library programs for Ohio institutions, the handicapped and inner-city readers, says a state library official.

State Librarian Joseph Shubert said all funding for these programs will end June 30 as the result of federal cutbacks.

He said the U.S. House has scheduled a vote on an emergency allocation to libraries next week. But he said he doubts if senators could act on the bill through regular channels before the end of the fiscal year.

Contribution Slated For Cincinnati Park

Courtesy School For Bus Drivers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan has announced that the federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation will contribute $491,450 toward development of Cincinnati's Riverfront Park project.

The money, which will be matched by state funds, will come out of the state's allocation of federal recreation money. The planned $1 million project includes landscaping, erection of playground equipment, lighting and other work.

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The Transit Authority of Northern Kentucky said Wednesday it is sending its drivers to college to eliminate the image of the surly bus driver.

"Proper treatment of people," said Dr. George Manning, business administration professor at Northern Kentucky State College, will be the goal.

The drivers will be put in "mock situations involving grouchy passengers," said Ray Lawrence, TANK superintendent.

A Page Of Opinion

Self-Criticism

One of the side stories of the Watergate scandal which has its lighter momets is the reaction in other countries. Showing a dismal lack of knowledge of the American political and judicial system, many Europeans did not understand why the government had not fallen as might have happened under their parliamentary systems.

The Russians, at the other extreme, wonder what the fuss is all about. Electronic surveillance and related activities are a way of life in the Soviet Union.

As if to compound the confusion in the minds of those who receive the Voice of America broadcasts, the VOA has been detailing the scandal as each chapter unfolded. Some members of the U.S. Senate have not been appreciative of the VOA's candor.

The Voice has an important role in such matters. It emphasizes the difference between its broadcasts and those from some other lands. Giving the straight news and even when it is uncomplimentary is the sincerest form of flattery. That may not be the way it is done elsewhere, but explaining how the U.S. system differs from others is one of the VOA's major responsibilities.

Not For Russians

Luxury ocean liners, except under U.S. registry, are staging a comeback. Their future dimmed temporarily by the advent of jet airliners, more than 1,000 cruises by luxury ships now vie for tourists' favors.

One of the newest pulled into New York for the first time recently. It was a majestic ship, fitted with 11 decks, seven of them with cabins. The liner boasts all the conveniences, including saunas, a theater, pool, gym, six bars, a music lounge and day-care center.

It also has a library containing books in five languages. Passengers are offered a variety of lessons on musical instruments and the latest dance steps.

Two things make this liner, the Mikhail Lermontov, stand out from other luxury ships of its class. All of its accommodations are of a single class and its owner is the Soviet Union. The Russians have gone into the ocean cruise business in a big way, as hosts but not as participants.

Few Russian tourists are permitted to visit the United States each year. The princely accommodations of the Lermontov are for the bourgeoisie.

Human Life Amendment

By JEFFREY HART

At the end of May, Senator James Buckley of New York delivered a speech on the Senate floor which will long be remembered for its eloquence and for what can only be called the classic quality of its argumentation. It is not often these days that a speech in Congress reminds one of the days of Webster, Calhoun or Clay. I suspect, indeed, that this speech will find its way into the anthologies of modern political and legal reflection.

The Senator made the speech in order to offer a Human Life Amendment to the Constitution, i.e., one designed to restrict abortion, an effort in which he has been joined by six other Senators: Hatfield, Hughes, Bennett, Bartlett, Curtis and Young. All but two of these, it will be noted, are Protestants, and they are drawn from the entire political spectrum.

Buckley's arguments involved Constitutional points, the nature of our Federal system, the ethics of feticide, and also a profound historical view of what is really at stake in the abortion controversy. All deserve careful discussion.

I was, however, especially struck — and moved — by a description the Senator quoted of the development of the unborn child. The prose is that of Dr. A. W. Liley, a professor of fetal physiology, and it reawakens one's sense of wonder:

"By 25 days the developing heart starts beating, the first strokes of a pump that will make 3,000 million beats in a lifetime. By 30 days . . . the baby, 1/4-inch long, has a brain of unmistakable human proportions, eyes, ears, mouth, kidneys, liver, umbilical cord and a heart pumping blood he has made himself. By 45 days . . . the baby's skeleton is complete, in cartilage not bone, the buds of the milk teeth appear and he makes his first movements of his limbs and body — although it will be another 12 weeks before mother notices movements. By 63 days he will grasp an object in his palm and can make a fist.

"Most of our studies of fetal behavior have been made later in pregnancy, partly because we lack techniques for investigation earlier. . . We know that he moves with a delightful easy grace in his buoyant world, that fetal comfort determines fetal position. He is responsive to pain and touch and cold and sound and light. He drinks his amniotic fluid, more if it is artificially sweetened and less if it is given an unpleasant taste. He gets hiccups and sucks his thumb. He wakes and sleeps. He gets bored with repetitive signals but can be taught to be alerted by a first signal for a second different one. Despite all that has been written by poets and song writers, we believe that babies cry at birth because they have been hurt.

"This then is the fetus we know and indeed each once were. This is the fetus we look after in modern obstetrics, the same baby we are caring for before and after birth, who before birth can be ill and need diagnosis and treatment just like any other patient."

From Dr. Liley's description one gains a fresh sense of the reality — of just how early recognizable human life appears, and what it is we are actually discussing when we use the odd and somehow distancing word "fetus," and when we use euphemisms such as "termination of pregnancy" and the like.

And, on the evidence of recent votes in Michigan and South Dakota, once public opinion focuses on those realities, Sen. Buckley and others have no reason to be pessimistic about their amendment.

Missing Children, Mother Reunited

CHICAGO (AP) — "They just keep kissing us," said the mother of two children returned to her by a Chicago private detective after a two-year absence.

Mrs. Roberta Casamiri of New Castle, Pa., and her children, Dewey, 7, and Kristin, 5, were reunited Monday, surrounded by relatives, at the airport in Youngstown, Ohio. They were returned from Mesa, Ariz., where they were living with their father.

Mrs. Casamiri, 28, and her husband, Dewey Jr., were divorced in 1969. The children were taken by Casamiri in September, 1971. Mrs. Casamiri had been awarded custody.

Anthony Pellicano, a Chicago investigator who specializes in locating missing persons, was hired by Mrs. Casamiri after she read an Associated Press story about private investigators. The story included mention of Pellicano's successes in locating persons.

"I spent 18 months trying to find the kids," Pellicano said Tuesday. "First I went to Florida, where she thought her ex-husband might have moved. Then I traced down a girl in Texas and finally wound up in California. I still couldn't find them."

Pellicano, who declined to reveal how he did locate the children, finally found them in Arizona two weeks ago.

"We planned to take them back, but we ran into legal problems so we hired an attorney and got them through the courts," Pellicano said.

Pellicano filed a suit in Arizona courts which resulted in the children being placed in a foster home Friday. A judge ruled Monday the children could be returned in Pellicano's custody to their mother.

In a telephone interview, Mrs. Casamiri said, "I never believed I'd see them again. When we saw them again at the airport, they knew us right away. They started asking questions about their old toys and their old clothes. I couldn't believe my daughter remembered so much. She was only three when I saw her last."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Almost all year round I have painful cracks in the corners of my mouth.

I once was told that this might be a vitamin deficiency. I take vitamins and eat an excellent nourishing diet and I know it cannot be because of this.

Miss B.W., R.I.

Dear Miss W.:

These tiny fissures at the angle of the mouth are known as "perleches."

It is true that a deficiency of the vitamin riboflavin can be responsible for this in children and adults. In the absence of such deficiency, other causes must be sought.

Excessive salivation, fungus infections in the corners of the mouth, allergies, and bacterial infections can cause tiny cracks which do not readily heal.

People who wear dentures tend to salivate a great deal and accumulate saliva in the angle of the mouth, causing a constant source of irritation. Children who have a large mass of adenoids and tonsils often salivate until these are removed.

The underlying condition, of course, must be rectified.

There are now a number of excellent ointments and creams that contain antibiotics and cortisone. These can be very effective.

Are there any special foods that should be avoided by people who have a hiatus hernia?

Mr. J.L., Calif.

Dear Mr. L.:

For my readers who are not acquainted with this condition, "hiatus hernia" (or "diaphragmatic hernia") is a weakening in the wall of the esophagus. It occurs at the point where the esophagus joins the stomach.

Vague symptoms of chronic heartburn and bloating may suggest to the doctor that the condition may exist. X-rays of the esophagus can readily demonstrate the presence of this disorder.

Not all cases of hiatus hernia are alike. Therefore, dietary regimes vary.

Generally, overeating, especially fried fatty foods, can be responsible for these distressing symptoms. It is for this reason that physicians urge patients with hiatus hernia to eat smaller quantities of food at more frequent intervals, rather than overload the stomach with one single large meal.

A program of weight reduction, in addition to sensible eating habits, may keep the hernia from progressing.

Speaking of Your Health . . . Many people seem to satisfy their consciences when they buy a new car that has elaborate seat belts. It is surprising how quickly this wonderful source of protection is then ignored.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Almost nobody denies any more that the big institutions have created serious problems for the stock markets. One of them is to scare the wits out of small stockholders and send them scurrying for cover.

Instinct tells the little investor that he risks serious injury participating in the sporting events of the elephant without first insisting that a spirit of civilized restraint and equality be agreed upon.

So he has been popping up now and then, but only to watch the behemoths—some with assets of a billion dollars or more—knocking prices about like a ball.

There is a lot more to the institutional problem, of course. One particular negative is the tendency of these funds and trusts and insurers to concentrate on certain companies, ignoring the shares of others and leaving them fearing their ability to raise capital.

But any solution must have a beginning, and Paul Kolton, American Stock Exchange president, has been telling congressmen and regulatory officials and institution managers that they must institute rules of civilized competition.

During the past month he has repeatedly urged steps in four areas, avoiding the specifics so as not to distract from the principles involved, but insisting that his ideas are not just suggestions but proposals for action.

TRADING: Institutions must develop guidelines for trading, because the demands they make on markets are often greater than the markets can supply.

For example, when an institution has spent months acquiring a large position, is it reasonable to expect the public, the specialists or other block traders to absorb the entire position in a few minutes or hours?

That's where the big price swings often occur. And so Kolton suggests that the institutions consider limiting themselves to disposal of only a certain amount of stock within a specified time period.

VALUING PORTFOLIOS: In sympathy with commissions in some other sports, Kolton is advising some of the players to take a haircut. By this he means that institutions should consider trimming the stated value of their holdings.

Very often the holder of 200,000 shares in a company prices them at market value, at the same price per share you see in the newspaper, even though it is unlikely they could dispose of such large holdings at these prices.

Kolton suggests, in the interests of reality, that institutions adopt measures similar to those used by exchange examiners when they study the financial condition of member firms.

"When our examiners look at our own firms," Kolton said, "they might decide that if the firm had to sell a big block held in its own name they would get less than market value."

"In that case, a $50 stock might be assigned a hypothetical value of $45 or $40. And if it is an over-the-counter stock, where the market is apt to be less liquid, the price could be even lower."

Wouldn't it make sense, he asks, for institutions also to take haircuts based on a criteria that includes the amount of stock in relation to shares outstanding, the amount of public trading, and holdings by other institutions?

DISCLOSURE: Some institutions, mainly mutual funds, currently make public their portfolios. If other institutions were to act similarly, this fact alone might make them more concerned about the way they use the markets.

USE OF INFORMATION: Institutional investors might consider establishing clear guidelines, publicly articulated, concerning their handling of corporate information for trading purposes.

Such guidelines, relating to the kind of nonpublic material information that might be used as a basis for trading, would go a long way toward convincing the individual investors that he can achieve a fair shake in the market.

Kolton hopes to obtain voluntary action. "When you can get voluntary agreement instead of government action it is more effective and efficient."

Miss Susan Jean Nelson Bride Of Daniel Speakman

MRS. G. DANIEL SPEAKMAN

Sugarcreek United Presbyterian Church of Dayton was the setting for the marriage of Miss Susan Jean Nelson and Mr. G. Daniel Speakman.

The Rev. Alexander Coyle performed the double ring ceremony 4:30 p.m., June 16th for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson Jr., Dayton, and the son of Mrs. George D. Speakman, 735 Hawthorne Drive, Circleville and the late Mr. George D. Speakman.

Candelabra and standing baskets with white spring flowers flanked the altar and the pews were decorated with white satin bows and greenery. Mrs. Malcom Wright, known professionally as Kathy Woodruff, presented a musical program.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a floor length princess style gown of ivory silk organza, delicately trimmed with flowered alencon lace and seed pearls with long puff sleeves gathered into wide lace cuffs at the wrists. She wore a cathedral length veil of nylon tulle trimmed with lace matching her gown and cascading from a lace and pearl trimmed cap.

The bride's jewelry was a pearl necklace belonging to her mother. She carried a colonial bouquet of sweetheart roses, baby chrysanthemums, stephanotis, lilies of the valley and baby's breath with pink and white streamers.

Miss Jane Nelson served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a delicate blue flowered batiste gown lined with blue and a white picture hat with blue streamers.

Bridesmaids, Miss Mary Ann Nelson and Miss Nancy Nelson, sisters of the bride, were gowned as the honor attendant in pink and wore white picture hats with pink streamers. The attendants each carried a single red rose.

Best man was Mr. John Bowers of Circleville. Mr. Richard Speakman, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Frank Carter, both of Circleville, were ushers.

Mrs. Nelson selected for her daughter's wedding a long aqua knit gown with short capped sleeves. White lace trimmed her gown and she wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Speakman wore a long sleeveless print gown with matching jacket. Her corsage was also of white orchids.

A reception in the Officers Club, DESC, Dayton, followed the ceremony. The three tiered white decorated wedding cake was topped with bride and groom figures. A buffet supper was served and guests danced to music of a combo. Miss Karen Knight attended the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., the bride wore a blue and white print coat dress with blue accessories. The couple will reside at 3035 Benchwood Road, Dayton, Ohio.

The bride is a graduate in nursing from Presbyterian University Hospital in Pittsburgh, Pa. She is employed as public health nurse for Montgomery County Health Department.

The bridegroom attended Miami University at Oxford, Ohio and served four years in the U.S. Air Force in Denver, Iran and Thailand. He is presently employed by Depco Electronics in Dayton and will enter ITT Electronics School in Dayton for the fall quarter.

Out-of-town guests were from: Pittsburgh, Pa.; Martha's Vineyard, Mass.; Morgantown, W. Va.; Circleville, Columbus, Hamilton, Troy and Kent, Ohio.

Texas Oil And Gas

Discoveries Lagging

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission has authorized maximum oil production for most fields in July, but it warned that the state's oil and gas industry is in a process of self-liquidation unless new reserves are found.

The commission said Monday that new gas and oil discoveries are running about 10 per cent of the amount of gas and oil produced in the state each month.

Inflation Doesn't Respect Geography, Survey Indicates

LONDON (AP) — It may be small comfort to Americans, but their inflation problems could be worse. They are in much of Western Europe.

Wage and price controls are not working well on this side of the Atlantic, an Associated Press survey shows. Often the controls have been less successful in Europe than in the United States.

The rate of inflation is still worse in Britain, France, Spain, Italy, Denmark and Finland than in America.

In Britain, for example, Prime Minister Edward Heath's government followed the Nixon lead last November and introduced the nation's toughest wage and price controls in its peacetime history. Inflation then was running at 9 per cent a year. It is still running now at 9.2 per cent a year.

Worse still, food prices have been rising faster in Britain under the controls than they were before. Last year food prices were rising at a rate of 3.4 per cent annually. This year they are rising at about 15 per cent a year.

Britain may be a special case. Much of the food price boost was caused by the nation's entry into the European Common Market on Jan. 1. Also, in this trading nation, imported food and raw materials are exempt from the price controls. And Britain must import 51 per cent of its food and raw materials.

But the pattern is not much different in other countries which don't have Britain's special problems.

In France, the controls are voluntary. The government has recommended a limit of 7 per cent a year on wage raises. But even Finance Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing admits wages are now rising at a rate of 12 per cent annually.

Some countries have rejected wage and price controls as unworkable or as politically unacceptable. Spain and Italy are examples. In both nations inflation is now a worse problem.

In Italy the annual rate of inflation is nearly 14 per cent, up from 8 per cent last year. In Spain it is about 12 per cent, up from 8.7 per cent.

Belgium has compulsory price controls, yet inflation there is the country's worst since the Korean War, rising at about 8 per cent a year.

West Germany has so far avoided both one extreme of no controls at all and the other extreme of strict wage and price curbs. Yet the country's inflation rate is growing at 7.8 per cent a year, a postwar record.

So far in Western Europe this year two of the best performances were recorded by the Netherlands and Norway, both with inflation rates of 7.8 per cent. Neither has extensive wage and price controls. But in both countries the cost of living is still rising at more than twice the rate of inflation in the United States during the most successful period of the Nixon controls.

New Chemical Turbine Seen Threat To Present Engines

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A Dallas man has invented a chemical turbine which he believes could replace the internal combustion engine and at the same time solve the problem of auto pollution. Some engineers, however, are skeptical.

The turbine uses oxygen and hydrogen—two of the most abundant chemicals in the world—to produce a superheated steam that the inventor, W. W. Gray, believes could run turbines or send cars speeding down the highway.

Gray and his chief engineer, Dr. Gerald Wyatt, however, admit that most of the information on the system's potential is theoretical. A prototype, they said, has been run briefly on only one occasion, and even then it was not attached to a device to produce any measureable horsepower.

The Dallas men showed a film and slides on their engine Monday at an engineering seminar here, and experts attending expressed skepticism about the potential for the engine.

"It's very early in the development for them to be talking about it," said Dr. R. L. Savage of Ohio University. "We'd need more information with some performance data. They've got a hell of a lot of work to do yet. They should come back in six months and tell us what they've done."

This, he said, is the reason "most of us were rather skeptical," about the new engine.

The engine is actually two stainless steel pipes, 12 inches long. A four-inch wide pipe fits inside a six inch pipe. A base plate and a top plate, with specially machined grooves, are fitted to the two pipes. The four-inch pipe is, in effect, the firing chamber.

Attached to the top plate is a small tube which carries a mixture of oxygen and hydrogen into the four-inch steel pipe. A smaller tube from the oxygen-hydrogen supply feeds a pilot light inside the firing chamber. The pilot light is ignited by a spark plug.

Gray said the system works by flowing an oxygen-hydrogen mixture into the firing chamber and then igniting it with the pilot light, creating up to 5,200 degrees of heat. Water is constantly fed from the bottom into the space between the firing chamber and the six-inch pipe. The water cools the outer wall of the chamber and then flows through grooves in the top plate into the chamber itself.

The water quickly becomes superheated steam and is bled off through the bottom plate, ready to do work.

Watergate Figure's Wife Cites 'Horrendous Months'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The honeymoon was short for Maureen Kane Dean. The past few months of Watergate crises following her October marriage to John W. Dean III have been horrendous, she says.

"But maybe we'll be able to relax a bit when this—what shall I call it?—is over," Mrs. Dean said in a doorstep interview at her home.

"This" is the scandal over the Watergate conspiracy and coverup in which her husband is alleged to have played a major role.

Mrs. Dean said she will accompany the ousted White House counsel when he tells his version of the conspiracy to the Senate Watergate committee next Monday.

"You can bet I'll be there," said the handsome blonde, who is Dean's second wife. He is divorced from his first wife.

President Nixon fired Dean April 30. Leaked accounts of the 34-year-old lawyer's story, told so far behind closed doors, indicate that he is likely to implicate Nixon in the Watergate coverup.

Since those chilly spring days when

Mrs. Dean watched her husband fall from White House glory, her life has changed markedly and "it's become terribly busy," she said.

In a way, she has been prisoner in her own home. Network television crews have camped on her townhouse doorstep in Alexandria, Va., sometimes round-the-clock, knocking on the front door until midnight and catching her again when she appeared to collect the morning newspaper.

Shortly after her husband lost his job, she escaped to Florida for a few days respite. But, since then, there have been few outings for tennis, swimming, visiting with friends, even shopping, she said. "But maybe when it's all over" The sentence lingered.

From the doorstep where Mrs. Dean spoke, her husband was seen seated in the basement den, bent over a desk filled with papers, putting the finishing touches on a long document he intends to read before the Watergate committee.

Asked if she helped him prepare the statement, Mrs. Dean said, "I've helped him type it, but the ideas are his, of course, from his head."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren
Pool Owners Are Flooded With Friends

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are installing a swimming pool, and already everyone we know is asking if they can come over and use it when it's finished. We are not rich. We both work and are paying for this pool with our hard-earned money.

If we wanted to swim with a bunch of people, we'd go to a public pool. We are putting in our own because we want our privacy.

How do we tell these people that we aren't looking for company after our pool is completed? Or worse yet, what do we say to the neighbors when they come knocking at our door in their swimsuits?

HIS AND HERS

DEAR H AND H: People with pools must have rules, but there's no point in alienating everyone before your pool is finished. Wait until it's ready for use, and alienate them one by one.

DEAR ABBY: Women are getting so nervy now with the Women's Lib thing, they are asking men to dance.

I had a harrowing experience the other night when my wife and I were at a public dance hall. She left me to go to the powder room, and you wouldn't believe the number of klutzes who moved in on me, asking me to dance with them. I am 68, bald and no bargain, but that didn't seem to make any difference.

Next time I'll go to the powder room with my wife. Phooey on equal rights!

DEAR BALDY: Don't "phooey" so fast. Why shouldn't women be able to ask men to dance? Some men would be delighted. And those who aren't can always say no.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are legally separated, and I am expecting next month. The doctor says it will be twins. (I already have one child.)

I want to send out birth announcements. Is this proper under the circumstances? If it is, should I write in my name only where it says, "Parents" on the announcement? Or should I include his too?

I hadn't even thought it might not be proper until my family raised the question. They all have different opinions.

EXPECTING TWINS

DEAR EXPECTING: Under the circumstances, forego the printed announcements. Write a personal note to your close friends to inform them of the double-header.

DEAR ABBY: I am still chafing over the doctor who wrote that he resents his parents for allowing him to be circumcised as an infant.

Point one: What mature person would harbor such resentment for a temporary discomfort that he can't even remember? And point two: If he knew his business, he would know that cervical cancer among women whose husbands are circumcised is far less frequent than among the others.

Watergate Hurts GOP Cash Flow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee has sent out an urgent appeal for contributions that acknowledges the party is in trouble because of the Watergate scandal.

GOP officials repeatedly have said that the party organization would not be the loser in Watergate because it was not involved in 1972 wrongdoing or coverup attempts.

In the new appeal for money, the chairman of the Republican National Finance Committee said once again that no one has suggested the organization "is even remotely connected to Watergate."

But David K. Wilson, in a June 15 letter to potential contributors, said "The Republican party is in trouble. We need your help."

"The deplorable Watergate scandal, in which a few misguided political adventurers exercised extraordinarily bad judgment and performed assorted questionable acts, has cast a pall of suspicion over the activities of the entire Republican party," Wilson said.

Just exactly what the dollars-and-cents impact of Watergate has been on the GOP committee's fund-raising is difficult to pin down.

Quarterly reports filed with the General Accounting Office last week show, at least through May 31, that the Republican National Committee was maintaining its traditional two-to-one edge over Democrats in fund raising.

Gasoline Costly, Shortage Spotty

WASHINGTON (AP) — A motorist just back from a 1,950-mile, extended weekend roundtrip from Washington to central Florida finds you can keep your gasoline tank filled if your eyes are sharp and wallet full.

The roadsides along one of the nation's most traveled vacation routes are dotted with closed service stations and big price signs that don't boast the price anymore.

But cars haven't yet started running out of fuel along the road, and traffic at gasoline pumps doesn't seem different from usual. Evidence of the purported gasoline shortage is spotty.

The worst spot encountered was in Santee, S.C., where a lengthy stretch of Interstate 95 comes to an end.

The regular gasoline at a Shell station cost 42.9 cents a gallon on Friday.

Across the street on Monday, an Exxon dealer was out of regular and selling premium for 44.9, limit eight gallons per car. An American Oil dealer sharing common cash register facilities with the Exxon man was selling his regular for 44.9 and premium for 49.9.

Down the street, a private label station advertised regular for 36.9. But a hand-scratched sign on the regular pumps said "sorry, out of gas." The premium cost 44.9.

Best available price spotted along the route for regular gas was 36.9. At a Shell station in Wilson, N.C., a driver could buy gasoline at that price by inserting dollar bills into a device on the pump and filling his own tank.

President Nixon's announced freeze on retail prices, including gasoline, is being openly disregarded by some stations.

In a Virginia suburb of Washington, a 12-pump independent station was selling regular for 38.9 the morning of Nixon's June 13 speech. That evening, just before the President spoke, the price was 40.9.

Nixon's order provided that prices be held to their June 1-8 highs. But a week later, that station still was selling its regular for 40.9. A nearby station that went up a penny to 39.9 the day of Nixon's speech hasn't withdrawn its increase, either.

Enticing signs on billboards or on towering service station poles still carry figures such as 33.9 or 35.9. But these stations usually turn out to be independents which now are closed.

Many of the open stations still have big signs with a permanent "3" and a permanent ".9" and a place left between them for changing the second digit of the prices, as from 36.9 to 37.9.

What's needed now, apparently, is a sign painter who can change those 3s to 4s.

Funds Approved For OEO Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Funds to continue the community antipoverty programs President Nixon wants to terminate have been approved by a House appropriations subcommittee.

At the urging of Speaker Carl Albert, the subcommittee has recommended $218 million to operate the 977 community action agencies around the country until July 1, 1975.

Although the sum is substantially below the $330 million appropriated for them this year, Nixon had asked for no money and hoped to start phasing the program out June 30.

The subcommittee action is only the first step in what could be a cliff-hanging rescue operation.

Blob On Painesville Lawn Declared Only A Slime Mold

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — What do you do with a blob on your lawn?

Debby Chapman of Painesville kicked the one that cropped up in her back yard.

It bled. She said it looked like blood. Her mother called the sheriff. He called the Environmental Protection Agency in Painesville. That agency notified its Columbus office and sent a staff worker to the Chapman home to watch the blob.

The sheriff thought it bore watching too. He sent a couple of deputies.

The blob, surrounded by authority, spread out on the lawn for the night.

The EPA began investigating. The red pancake-like blob was sent to the office of Dr. Kenneth Applegate of the EPA water quality division.

Applegate recognized the blob as a slime mold, a not-uncommon occurrence during extremely wet weather.

Dr. John A. Schmitt of the botany department at Ohio State University said most slime molds grow on dead organic matter and this one probably was growing on dead grass. He said they are "really quite common", but that people don't usually notice them.

Schmitt said they are not known to cause disease in humans, although a few people may be allergic to the spores. A combination of water and temperature accounts for their sud-

By MRS. FRANCIS FURNISS

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter were hosts to the members of the Monroe Township Advisory Council No. 10 when they met in their home Wednesday evening for their June meeting. Mr. Clyde Michel chairman opened the meeting and the secretary Laura Long called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. The topic, "Is Saving Obsolete? Investment Opportunities" were read and discussed. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michel, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Finch, Mr. Elbee Jones, Mrs. Francis Furniss, Miss Laura Long.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davis and son Jeff, Mr. and Mrs. Avor Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. Porter. The July meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Finch, and will feature a picnic.

The Bible School ended last Friday at the United Methodist Church and in the evening Family night was observed at the church. Mr. Phil Swan read scripture from Luke followed by group singing This Is My Fathers World. Artie Dick gave a reading on Fathers Day and the group sang, "Faith of our Father's." Herman Porter gave a reading, "Grandpa" and Rev. Chapin gave a Father's Day Message. Mrs. Bert Fry of Xenia was then introduced by Robert See and in a very pleasing and interesting manner she gave her chalk talk on "The Lost Sheep". Refreshments of cookies, ice tea and nuts were served from a beautifully appointed tea table centered with a lovely arrangement of summer flowers.

The Monroe Township Alumni Banquet was held Saturday evening in the Monroe School auditorium. The Ladies of the Five Points United Methodist church served the lovely steak and fish supper. Mrs. Francis Furniss gave the invocation and the president, Carroll Liston conducted the business session. The fifty year, twenty-five year and ten year classes were honored. Ralph W. Nixon Group Found Guilty In Vesco Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge today found the Nixon reelection finance committee guilty of violating the Campaign Finance Act by failing to report a $200,000 contribution from financier Robert L. Vesco. District Court Judge George L. Hart fined the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President $1,000 on each of three counts.

Hart stayed execution of the sentence for 10 days pending an appeal.

Hart found that Nixon finance chairman Maurice H. Stans accepted the Vesco contribution after April 7, 1972, the effective date of the new campaign law, but failed to give campaign treasurer Hugh W. Sloan Jr. a detailed accounting within the legal time period.

Stans, Vesco, former campaign director John N. Mitchell and another man are under indictment by a federal grand jury in New York City in connection with the contribution, which subsequently was returned. That trial is scheduled for September.

Judge Hart ruled that the committee failed to keep records of the contribution and failed to report it.

U.S. And Russia Sign Tax Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union signed their first tax agreement today amid a prediction by Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz that it would help develop trade relations between the two nations.

Shultz and the Soviet Union's minister of foreign trade, Nikolai S. Patolichev, signed the tax treaty at the Treasury Department.

The treaty, which must be approved by the Senate, is designed to prevent double taxation of U.S. and Soviet citizens and trade transactions in the two nations. It is similar in scope to most income tax treaties the U.S. has with nonCommunist nations.

More Gas Stations, Less Gas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Service stations all over Ohio, victims of the national fuel crisis, have closed down in recent weeks, but major oil companies still are building new ones.

In Whitehall, suburb of Columbus, a public hearing is scheduled next month on a request to build a new gas station.

In Steubenville, the city planning commission approved a new Sohio station, and in Geauga County two new gas stations have been scheduled for construction, one by Union 76 and another by Sohio.

Five stations already have closed down in Whitehall, all for lack of gasoline supplies. Citizens near the proposed new station demanded that the city look into the feasibility of a new station.

Whitehall Councilman Darrell Todd has argued that a city can not regulate commerce in a city or pick and choose how commercially zoned land may be used.

City law requires that vacated stations either be rented or converted to other use in 90 days.

New service stations are going up all across Ohio, but oil company officials said the stations are just replacing outmoded or "by-passed" facilities, and in no way affect distribution of fuel reserves.

Chuck Partridge, spokesman for Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, said Sohio has curtailed its construction program by half since the energy shortage.

"But we still have to honor some previous contracts, or get sued," he explained.

Since 1967, Sohio stations have decreased from about 4,000 to 2,800, at the same time, the total number of gas stations in Ohio decreased from about 12,000 to its current 10,000.

Gone are the days of the "mom and pop" service station, which sold everything from car parts to groceries. Many have found themselves by-passed by the major highways and expressways.

Others just can't take the competition from many company stations that now can offer motel and restaurant facilities, along with auto service.

Stations are larger. More islands, more attendants, more mechanics, trucking and automobile "centers" can service a lot more cars faster than many stations built five years ago.

The number of service stations drops faster than they can be replaced, Partridge said.

Partridge said Sohio — the state's largest petroleum production supplier — is following voluntary federal fuel allocation guidelines.

The company restrains 75 per cent of its reserves for company stations, and is required to give "an equitable allocation" to its independent customers.

"There may be a constitutional challenge" to mandatory controls, he said.

The overboard drain holes on the deck of a ship are known as the scuppers.

Grange News

Star Grange met Tuesday evening June 12 in the basement of the Five Points United Methodist church for their regular meeting. Harold Furniss, Master presided over the business session. A letter of appreciation was read from Robert E. Sweet, Education and Training Supervisor of the Alcoholism program for sponsoring Bruce Morgan at the Teenage Institute in August. "Thank You" notes were read from Mrs. Bertha Porter and Mrs. Stella Schwartz for the Easter flowers they had received from the Grange. An invitation was read to Nebraska Grange Open House from 4-6 at the Grange Hall on Saturday June 16th and to the Banquet at 7 o'clock at Teays Valley School in celebration of their 100th Anniversary.

An appeal for aid was answered and a contribution was made to the 4-H projects for the Pickaway County Fair.

A letter was read from the County deputies, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bidwell, concerning several up coming events. There will be a meeting concerning the lunch at the fair and the men are asked to help at the gates again this year. The Friendly Hills Camp grounds will be open on July 1st, and grangers wishing to make reservations for camping should call Mr. William Daum at 614-4520016 at the cost of $2.00 per night. You must have Grange identification to get in. The group voted to contribute 3 dining tables to the new dining room, which is being built at the Friendly Hill Camp. The group also voted to have a booth at the Fair as usual again this year.

Mrs. Jean Dawson reported on the various district contests that have been held and Pickaway County was well represented in the talent contest held in Ross County.

The program under the direction of the lecturer, Laura Long entitled "June Days" opened with "A Sunny Face" by Mrs. Francis Furniss, and she also read, How Our Flag Day originated. Mrs. Otha Lewis read, "When Pa Was Young" and the group sang The Star Spangled Banner. Mrs. Norman Porter read, "I Am Your Flag". Miss Long read, "Father's Innings" and the program closed with a reading, "Remember" by Ellen Dennis.

Refreshments of strawberries, ice cream, cookies, nuts and ice tea were served by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Porter, Mrs. Jean Reid and Mrs. Helen Hammel.

The next regular meeting will be held in the church basement on Tuesday evening July 10th.

Net Farm Income Of $22 Billion Still Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department, for now at least, is sticking by a new prediction that net farm income this year will exceed $22 billion.

That estimate, despite a threat of fuel shortages and possible reductions in some crop production, would be up from the previous high of $19.2 billion last year.

It also would be about $1 billion more than USDA economists estimated for 1973 net farm income earlier this spring. The main reason for the improved outlook: higher prices of farm commodities.

But economists say privately that the $22 billion estimate is highly qualified and that much depends on how many acres of corn and soybeans, particularly, were actually planted this spring.

It also depends greatly on whether farmers can get sufficient fuel to cultivate and harvest crops this year. Weather, always a factor, could add further doubts.

The department will issue in July a report showing revised acreage plantings for spring crops. Although those will give a better idea of how production might shape up, production estimates based on field conditions will not begin until August for major spring crops.

Meantime, according to the Outlook and Situation Board, here is the official outlook:

"Prices, while remaining strong in the second half of 1973, may ease some from current levels. For the year, both crop and livestock prices may average more than one-fifth higher than in 1972.

"In addition, the volume of crop marketings likely will be up 5 per cent, assuming that record outturns of wheat, corn, and soybeans are achieved."

If this all happens, the USDA expects farmers to sell a record of about $73 billion worth of products this year, compared with $58.5 billion in 1972.

But much of the gain in gross sales will be offset by sharp increases in production expenses, especially for purchased feed, livestock and seed. Prices of almost everything else are up, too, including fuel, fertilizer, machinery, wages and interest rates.

Ohio Bell Bid Nixed By Justices

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court says it has no authority to order the Public Utilities Commission to grant the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. an emergency rate increase.

The court was requested by Ohio Bell to order an emergency increase or set a date when the rate increase would be decided.

The PUCO argued that it alone has authority to decide what rates should be and it was no business of the court, a spokesman said.

The commission also argued that to grant the rate increase would violate President Nixon's 60-day price freeze.

Justice J. J. P. Corrigan, in the sole dissenting opinion, argued that Ohio Bell's complaint was cause for action by the court, that the PUCO had a duty to order the emergency increase and that Ohio Bell has a "clear legal right to such a decision from the commission."

Ohio Bell requested a $165 million, or 18 per cent, rate increase.

House Rejects Powell Charges; No Jurisdiction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A U. S. House committee has ruled it has no jurisdiction to investigate charges of alleged campaign violations against U. S. Rep. Walter Powell, R-Ohio.

The special committee set up to investigate campaign expenditures said last week it was appointed only to review 1972 campaign violations.

The allegations against Powell, filed by Don R. Gingerich of Franklin, Ohio, involve a 1970 campaign.

Gingerich, who was Powell's campaign manager in the 1970 Republican primary, charged the congressman failed to report a $10,000 salary as part of his campaign expenditures.

Gingerich was advised to "seek other remedies, particularly in the state of Ohio."

Probe Guard Copter Crash

AMELIA, Va. (AP) — The Army has launched an investigation into the crash of a helicopter near this southern Virginia community in which four members of the Ohio National Guard were injured.

An Army spokesman said engine trouble tentatively had been listed as the cause of the crash. The accident occurred just after noon Wednesday while the OH58 copter was on a training mission.

The men were identified Wednesday night by Lt. Col. Joseph P. E. McCann of the Ohio National Guard as:

WO Richard J. Russell, 36, of Russell

Township, Ohio; CWO Harold L. Leimbach, 42, of Wellington, Ohio; Spec. 5 Joseph S. Benedik, 29, of Canal Fulton, Ohio; and Spec. 5 David A. Sebald, 24, of North Canton, Ohio.

The men were picked up by a second helicopter on the same flight and flown to Kenner Army Hospital in Ft. Lee, the Army said. One was treated and released and another later was transferred to the Portsmouth Naval Hospital.

Wottle Runs Sizzling Mile To Turn Back Prefontaine

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — "I knew I had him after three laps," exulted Dave Wottle, victor over Steve Prefontaine Wednesday night in a sizzling mile clocked at 3:53.3.

Another Olympic gold medal winner, Rod Milburn, equaled his own world record in the 120-yard high hurdles at 13.0 seconds. No one was within 10 yards at the finish.

How fast could he have gone? "I know it would have been under 13.0," said Milburn, the NCAA champion from Southern University.

The performances of Wottle and Milburn were the highlights in a nearly impromptu track and field meet attended by 12,000 delighted fans. The meet was pulled together during the past three weeks to raise funds to restore the west grandstands at Hayward Field, where the University of Oregon has developed so many distance runners.

Wottle and Prefontaine leave for Europe this month for a summer's campaign against Europe's best.

Skip Kent of Wisconsin, who won the 880 collegiate title in 1:47.2, ran a lifetime best of 1:56.4 in winning that event.

Randy Williams, Olympic gold medalist from Southern California, lost to UCLA's James McAlister in the long jump. McAlister leaped 26 feet 7 1/2 inches. Williams was second at 26-1 3/4.

Oregon's Mac Wilkins never got a chance to go after Randy Matson's collegiate record in the discus. Wilkins, who won the AAU title Saturday with a throw of 211-11, pulled a groin muscle while hurdling in practice Tuesday.

World record holder Jay Silvester won the discus with a throw of 202-9. Olympian Tim Vollmer, formerly of Oregon State, took second at 202-3.

Cubs Put Bucs In Basement

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer

"At this time of the year, it doesn't matter whether we are in first, last or fifth place," Pittsburgh Manager Bill Virdon was saying. "The only time that matters is the last day of the season."

The Bucs, defending champions in the National League East, took occupancy of the basement by losing 5-3 Wednesday night to the Chicago Cubs while the Philadelphia Phillies were scrambling into fifth place by edging the New York Mets 4-3. The Cubs retained their 4 1/2-game lead over Montreal's surprising Expos and dumped the Pirates 9 1/2 off the pace and half a game back of the Phillies. It was Pittsburgh's 14th loss in the last 18 games.

In the National League's other games, Cincinnati downed San Francisco 7-5, Montreal whipped St. Louis 5-1, San Diego turned back Houston 6-2 and Los Angeles beat Atlanta 6-5 in 11 innings.

The Phillies bounded into the heady atmosphere of fifth on the strength of Wayne Twitchell's four-hitter and run-scoring singles in the fifth inning by Terry Harmon, Willie Montanez and Greg Luzinski.

Those hits overcame the Mets' 3-1 lead, built in the fourth inning on Felix Millan's single, John Milner's triple, Ed Kranepool's sacrifice fly and Wayne Garrett's homer. Luzinski had doubled for the Phils' first run in the first inning.

Homers by Tony Perez and Hal King highlighted the Reds' six-run outburst that sent the Giants down to their ninth loss in the last 11 games. The homers countered clouts by Bobby Bonds and Tito Fuentes.

The Expos reeled off their ninth victory in the last 12 games on the strength of John Boccabella's three-run homer in a four-run third-inning that keyed a 13-hit assault against the Cardinals.

The Padres, halting their losing skid at 10 games, got a pair of runs-batted-in on a single and a sacrifice fly by Dave Winfield, the left fielder selected earlier this month in baseball's free-agent draft. Steve Arlin scattered nine Houston hits, one of them Doug Rader's eighth homer.

Dave Lopes walked, Bill Buckner singled, then Atlanta third baseman Darrell Evans booted Steve Yeager's two-out grounder, giving the Dodgers their victory, which widened their West Division lead over the Giants to three games.

Chisox Hammer California

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Who was that designated hitter? That was no designated hitter—THAT was Cy Acosta.

The Chicago White Sox player Wednesday became the first pitcher to hit for himself in the American League's Year of the Designated Hitter.

"I didn't realize he was the first one when I sent him up," said Chicago Manager Chuck Tanner after the White Sox' 8-3 victory over the California Angels.

Acosta's historic appearance was hardly worth it—he struck out.

An inning before Acosta got a chance to make incidental history, the White Sox had the game wrapped up. Pat Kelly's first home run, a three-run shot, highlighted a six-run seventh for Chicago.

The inning helped the White Sox break a five-game losing streak.

In the other American League games, the Cleveland Indians beat the Detroit Tigers 7-6; the New York Yankees trimmed the Baltimore Orioles 2-1; the Boston Red Sox turned back the Milwaukee Brewers 3-2 and the Texas Rangers blanked the Minnesota Twins 3-0.

George Hendrick knocked in the winning run with a single in the last of the ninth inning to power Cleveland over Detroit. Hendrick won Tuesday.

Washington Twp. Nips Pickaway RCA, 6-5

Dan Calton hurled a four-hitter and provided the plate power as Washington Twp. edged Pickaway RCA, 6-5, in a Tri County Little League Major contest.

Calton fanned seven and aided his own cause with a home run and a pair of singles. Jeff Seimer, Joe Valentine, Brett Green, Joe Scanlon and John White each had a single for the winners.

Fouch was on the mound for RCA. Davis, Moats and Caudill had hits for the losers.

night's game for the Indians in exactly the same manner.

Hendrick, who also hit three home runs Tuesday night, hit another one for Cleveland Wednesday. The blast, his 14th of the season, came in the seventh inning and gave the Indians a 6-2 margin before the Tigers rallied to tie the game in the top of the ninth.

Designated hitter Jim Ray Hart hit a two-run homer and Sparky Lyle rescued Mel Stottlemyre from an eighth-inning jam to help New York beat Baltimore.

Stottlemyre had a one-hitter going until the Orioles mounted their biggest threat of the night in the eighth. Lyle came in with men on second and third and gave up a run on a ground ball before nailing down the victory. It was Lyle's 18th save, 11 of them in the Yankees' last 11 victories.

Kurt Bevacqua delivered the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the 12th inning to give Kansas City its triumph over Oakland. The A's tied the game 4-4 with two runs in the ninth on an RBI double by Gene Tenace and a sacrifice fly by Joe Rudi.

Graban's Loft Wins 600-Mile Event

The Circleville Pigeon Club held a 600-mile race from Brinkley, Ark., with John Graban's loft taking first place.

The winning speed was 854 yards per minute. Graban also won bird, loft and special derbies. Iles' loft took second, third and fourth with speeds of 637, 421.2788 and 421.7015 yards per minute.

Pitcher To Ruth Attacks Hurlers

SHANNON, Miss. (AP) — The man who gave up Babe Ruth's final two home runs says present-day pitchers should think about only one thing when they face Hank Aaron—if the Atlanta slugger is up against them seeking his 715th home run: knock him down.

"If I was pitching and Aaron came up needing one more homer to break Ruth's mark, I'd dust him off," says 70-year-old Guy Bush. "Anything to get him out of the game. He would know I'm not his friend."

Bush commented after several National League pitchers said they would not mind giving up Aaron's 715th home run, the one that would break Ruth's all-time home run record.

Bush had no kind words for those pitchers, nor for baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who warned the pitchers they could be suspended for "helping" Aaron.

"I've never heard anything like what these pitchers are saying," Bush said. "It's absolutely criminal. If this happens, I'll be ashamed I ever played the game."

Bush says Kuhn was too soft on the pitchers. He says longtime commissioner, Judge Kenesaw Landis, would have dispensed quickly with such utterances.

"If Landis were the commissioner of baseball now," said Bush, who gave up Ruth's final two homers on May 25, 1935 in Pittsburgh, "he'd have this little matter cleared up in about one hour."

"I'm telling you that Judge Landis would have marched those boys into his office, deformed them, and sent them on their merry way with a permanent suspension."

"They would never have seen the inside of a major league park."

Close Contests Pace

Slow Pitch Action

Circleville Merchants No. 1 stopped the Circleville Independents, 12-10, and American Legion nipped Spurlock Construction, 9-8, in slow pitch games Wednesday at Ted Lewis Park.

Baranick and Weffler hurled the Merchants' victory with Hal McConaughy, Joe Huhn and Jim McConnell providing the plate power. Kelley Boyer suffered the loss with Bob Parker slamming a four-bagger for the losers.

Bill McGowan was the winning hurler as the American Legion gained its 10th win in 11 outings. Dave Kraft and Dean Fausnaugh had three hits apiece for the winners.

John Miller Attraction In Golf Clash

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Johnny Miller shook his floppy blond hair and there was a faraway look in his blue eyes. "I'm still someplace else," the soft-spoken, 26-year-old U.S. Open Golf champion said before teeing off today in the first round of the $160,000 American Golf Classic.

Some promoters figure that—for the right man—a U.S. Open victory could be as much as a million dollars. And Miller could be that man.

He is very photogenic, and comes across as the kid-next-door type. He doesn't smoke and he doesn't drink—not even coffee.

While the bulk of his money should come from personal appearances, from increased exhibition fees and a flock of expensive endorsements, he's already nailed down much more than the $35,000 first prize with shots at the prizes in several other tourneys.

Although he's due for a letdown after the excitement of his Open triumph, he ranks as one of the prime attractions in this 72-hole race for a $32,000 first prize.

Other leading contenders in the field of 99 include Jack Nicklaus, Tom Weiskopf and Arnold Palmer. Nicklaus is the only four-time winner this season and leads the money-winners with $190,000. Weiskopf has won three times, finished second, then third in his last five starts. Palmer showed flashes of old in a strong performance last week.

Also on hand are Australian Bruce Crampton, defending titleholder Bert Yancey and Masters winner Tommy Aaron.

Hendrick Again Leads Tribe Win

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Indian Manager Ken Aspromonte has a St. Christopher's medal, a bagful of Bufferin and George Hendrick.

All three came in handy Wednesday as the Tribe captured its second consecutive one-run, ninth inning American League baseball victory from the Detroit Tigers.

"A fan gave me this medal before the game and said it would bring me good luck," Aspromonte said after his Tribe nipped the Tigers 7-6.

And then he held up the Bufferin. "These were sent to me by a concerned fan," he said.

George Hendrick came to the Indians from the Oakland Athletics in a trade last March.

The good luck is needed and so is a headache compound when you drop a 5-2 sixth inning lead as the Indians did. But what's needed most are Hendrick's ninth inning singles, that drive in winning runs.

Hendrick also hit a solo homer in Wednesday's game which gave him four round-trippers in the last four times at bat. On Tuesday the 22-year-old centerfielder hit three home runs and a ninth-inning, game-winning single.

Reds Batter Giants Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two weeks ago Dan Driessen was "just having fun" tearing up the American Association for Indianapolis. Today

Johncock Set For Schaefer 500 Contest

MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP) — Gordon Johncock has had almost one month to savor his victory in the Indianapolis 500-mile race, but he still can't get excited about it.

"It was too much of a hassle," the 38-year-old Michigan native said Wednesday as practice began for the July 1 Schaefer 500, a $400,000 event Johncock said he expects to win.

"That Indianapolis thing, it really didn't seem like a 500-mile victory," said the diminutive driver. "With everybody getting hurt and all the bad weather, nobody could be really happy. It was just a bad deal all the way around."

Johncock had his STP EagleOffy in front when the Indy race was called at 332.5 miles because of rain.

Johncock, a journeyman driver for many years, made only about 10 practice runs Wednesday while other drivers began shaking their cars down for qualifying runs that start Saturday at the Pocono International Raceway.

Meanwhile, 26-year-old Mike Mosley recorded a practice lap at 185.6 miles per hour despite new rule modifications that cut the wing width on the Indy-type cars from 64 inches to 55 inches and reduced on-board fuel capacity to 40 gallons from the 75 gallons that prevailed at Indianapolis.

Mosley's unofficial time was less than five miles off Bobby Unser's official lap mark of 190.210 m.p.h. with which he won the pole position for the 1972 Schaefer 500.

In Saturday's first round of qualifying, the pole position will go to the day's fastest driver. Thirty-three starters will be picked in sessions Saturday and Sunday.

the Cincinnati Reds' rookie third baseman is just about the hottest hitter in the National League.

Driessen collected three hits for the second straight game against generous San Francisco pitching Wednesday helping the surging Reds to their fourth straight victory, a 7-5 conquest of the Giants.

"I thought I'd be struggling — after all, this is the big leagues," said Driessen, who triggered a six-run, fourth inning rally with an infield hit and ended it with a run scoring single.

Driessen now has 16 hits in 38 trips for a .421 average after his first 11 major league games.

He was batting .409 at Indianapolis at the time of his recall after hitting at a .360 clip for the Reds in spring training.

"I really don't know why I'm going so well," Driessen said.

"I'm just going up, seeing the ball and hitting it. I was a little worried when they called me up because I was just having fun hitting at Indianapolis.

Two other newcomers joined Driessen in contributing to the victory, following in the footsteps of newly-acquired Fred Norman, who shut out the Giants Tuesday night.

Left-handed reliever Dave Tomlin, whose previous major league experience included four games and five earned runs in 6 1-3 innings of work, retired the only 10 Giants he faced to save the victory for Don Gullett, 7-5.

Catcher Hal King, who has seen major league action with the Pirates, Braves and Rangers, made his first appearance as a Red and responded with a towering homer to right field in the fourth.

"I thought I pitched well enough to make the club this spring, but they wanted experience," said Tomlin. "I was pitching well at Indianapolis (1.17 ERA) and I knew the Reds were having pitching trouble so I was hoping I'd get called up."

The Giants, who have dropped nine of their last 11 games while their pitchers have yielded 71 runs, had little to cheer about except for the persistent power hitting of leadoff batter Bobby Bonds.

Colonels Ownership Explains Secrecy

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Louisville millionaire John Y. Brown Jr., a former owner of the Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association, says the sale of the franchise was not revealed during the ABA playoffs because of the "unsettled" status of the sale.

The Cincinnati Enquirer disclosed Wednesday that Cincinnati Sports, Inc., (CSI) owned the Colonels before the playoffs. The newspaper quoted Brian Heekin, CSI president, as saying the group's responsibility for the team began April 1.

Youth Court Appearances Bring Sentences To Nine

Two local youths, age 12 and 15, were found guilty of school truancy in violation of an earlier probation in Juvenile Court recently.

Judge Guy Cline ordered continued probation for the pair.

Complaints issued by the Circleville Police were heard against a 14-year-old Route 5 boy. The youth had been charged by police for vandalism, breaking and entering, malicious destruction and maliciously defacing a dwelling. He was ordered to temporary care of the Ohio Youth Commission.

A boy, 17, entered pleas of guilty to charges of purchasing beer at a city tavern and falsifying his age to obtain the alcoholic beverage.

For the first citation, he was fined $50 and had a sentence of 30 days in detention suspended if he would pay all his fines and court costs. He was placed on probation one year and ordered to complete 100 hours of work for the community. For giving a false age, he was ordered to pay $25 of a $50 fine and given 10 days in detention.

Frances Hunt, 37, of Elsea Mobile Village, was found guilty of contributing to the unruliness of her daughter by interfering with her school attendance. She was placed on probation for three years, fined $50 with half of the fine suspended and received a suspended six month jail sentence.

An order was issued for emergency care for a two year old child whose mother's whereabouts are not known. In a second case, a 4-year old was found to be neglected and placed in the custody of the Children's Services.

For running away from home and refusing to obey her custodian, a 16-year-old Circleville girl was temporarily sentenced to the Youth Commission.

David Alan LeMay, 16, Dunkle Road, was found guilty of hauling a rider while holding only a temporary motorcycle permit which prohibits riders. The student's fine was suspended, but his driving privileges were suspended for one month, except to drive to work and traffic school.

For improper passing, Jesse Curry, 17, of Route 2, was fined $10. Curry's fine was suspended and he lost his driving privileges for 30 days, with special allowances for traffic school, 4-H and work.

Deanna Jackson, 18, was charged with driving 45 in a 25 mile zone within the village of Orient and reckless operation. The court suspended the Orient girl's fine and took away her privilege to drive for a month.

Driving an unsafe vehicle was the charge against 17-year-old John I. Collett, Route 2. Collett's vehicle, when stopped, had four bad tires, a bad exhaust system and no brake lights, the arrest report noted. He was ordered to attend traffic school.

Local Delegates Elected At Girls State

Delegates to the American Legion Auxiliary sponsored Girls State at Capital University in Columbus have selected three Pickaway County girls to fill positions in the self-governed mythical cities.

Kathy Jo Hoffman of Teays Valley High School has been elected as a school board member for the city of Schille in Killworth County, as a member of the Nationalist party.

Elected to City Council on the Nationalist party for the city of Hayes in Horton County is Becki Eileen Easterday, a junior at Westfall High School.

Serving as Civil Defense Director is Karen Jo Woolever, a student at Teays Valley High School. She is a member of the Federalist party and resides in the city of Taft in Logan County.

As the 1973 session ends Sunday, a total of 24,013 girls have actively participated in the auxiliary's largest project which is designed to introduce and educate the citizens of tomorrow in our form of democracy.

Miss Mary Beth Rhoads of Circleville was invited to serve as a City Government Adviser. Miss Rhoads' appointment was made by the Girls' State Board of Directors. She and other outstanding women are directing and assisting the girls who are in their junior year in high school.

Miss Rhoads is a junior at Marietta College majoring in history (pre-law). She was a delegate to Buckeye Girls' State in 1970.

Float Cuts Dollar Down To 75 Cents Across Europe

LONDON (AP) — An American who put aside money 18 months ago to pay for a trip abroad will find each dollar worth only about 75 cents of its former value in Europe today as a result of three devaluations.

He probably heard about the first two devaluations—formal steps announced by the White House and sent to Congress for approval. They reduced the dollar's buying power overseas by 8.58 per cent in December 1971 and by 10 per cent in February 1973.

The third devaluation might be a surprise to the traveler. It was a creeping devaluation, informal and unannounced, and decided in the market place, rather than through negotiations among governments.

Since devaluation No. 2, the dollar has been allowed to float against other important currencies according to supply and demand. Governments no longer were obligated to defend fixed exchange rates.

In some respects, the floating system worked. There were no more world monetary crises.

But the dollar kept floating—more or less steadily downward. Since February, it has lost about 7 per cent in its buying power against an average of leading world currencies, bringing the total shrinkage from the three devaluations to about 25 per cent.

Associated Press correspondents in several European capitals asked bankers, gold dealers, economists and government officials to explain the dollar's weakness since February.

Their answers were remarkably alike on the causes. But proposals for correcting the weakness were far apart.

All those questioned in The AP's survey mentioned Watergate and inflation prominently. They suggested that Watergate would weaken President Nixon's ability to solve U.S. economic problems and that American inflation would erode the value of the dollar.

"I see deeper economic causes in worldwide inflation," said Paul Lichtenberg, spokesman for the executive board of Commerzbank in Frankfurt, Germany. "The Watergate affair was probably only the psychological trigger factor...."

As confidence in the dollar has waned, wealthy individuals, multinational corporations and Middle East oil interests have shifted their assets out of dollars into the relative safety of gold.

"No one can say for certain whether the growing distrust in the dollar set off the run into gold or whether it was gold that undermined confidence in U.S. currency," a Zurich gold dealer said. "It is like asking which came first, the chicken or the egg."

Guido Carli, influential governor of the Bank of Italy, this month suggested either raising the official price of gold or letting government central banks sell gold on the free market. Either move would take pressure off the dollar.

French Finance Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing said the United States should support the dollar by resuming dollar purchases on world money markets.

Neither view has attracted much international support.

Young Fashion Designers Go For Sensible Elegance

NEW YORK (AP) — The theme was elegance when 12 young designers gathered to talk fashion.

They were a quiet, sensible group, short on bold ideas but long on adaptability, nostalgia or smooth-looking commercial concepts.

They discussed their fashion philosophy Wednesday and showed fall clothes at a luncheon sponsored by the Wool Bureau, Inc., an organization for promotion and research in wool.

The audience was as interested in the rising wool prices—up 15 to 20 per cent—as they were in the styles.

However, some of the clothes were so nostalgic one viewer was prompted to ask: Why are you doing such old-looking clothes if you're supposed to be young designers?

"We think that glamour is important. Our contemporaries would like to have some of that back again. We love it. I don't see why we can't do it," said designer Pinky Wolman of Pretty Boy Floyd, who showed a slicked-up flannel tuxedo with top hat.

She added that her generation had never enjoyed the glamour of clothes done in previous decades.

Another designer who must have been inspired by the question was Jonathan Hitchcock of Hitchcock, Ltd., who showed an above-the-ankle skirt and pulled-down sweater. Several said they had done some longer skirts for fall.

There were several versions of the big Seventh Avenue trends: the wrap coat, the elegant day dress and the tweed pants suit.

"If we change things too quickly, we make it impossible for a woman to keep her wardrobe over a period of years," said Jane Janedis of Kelita, who featured a conservative green tweed pants suit.

"I think creativity is mostly in eliminating, paring it down and still having it look like something," said Schek.

Designer Scott Barrie of Barrie Sport, Ltd., the best-known of the group, showed a fullskirted burgundy dress with yellow turban.

"Elegance is the way to define fashion.... Everyone's glad to welcome it back," he said.

Smith also received a plaque as winner of TOTAL II competition in Mt. Vernon. He was named one of the top five Jaycees in Ohio in the competition.

He is a past president of the Mt. Vernon chapter and was named the Outstanding Local President for chapters in Division III of the Ohio Jaycees. He has served as local treasurer, state chairman for Leadership Training and as district secretary.

Economists, officials and bankers also differ on whether floating or fixed exchange rates are preferable.

While the arguing continues, money markets remain uncertain.

At the moment, gold is down from record highs and the dollar is up from record lows. But no one can say for certain what will happen next.

There is nothing to prevent the dollar from floating back up again, if the market decides it was oversold during its long slump. But more Watergate developments damaging to the Nixon administration could depress the dollar further.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when you and most persons are likely to have considerable compassion and want to help others who are having a difficult time. It is also a day and evening when art, music, romance and culture in various forms can be most rewarding to those who now take the time to engage in them.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get private affairs solved satisfactorily. Tonight be sure you are thoughtful with mate. Rid yourself of whatever is tiresome and improve conditions around you. Do some constructive reading.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Discussions with good friends can help you gain your finest aims now, then enjoy the recreational activities with them. Visit with a bigwig friend in late evening and make fine new plans for the future.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are able to make big headway where civic work is concerned, so start this early for best results. Get know-how from a new acquaintance of note. Think wisely, justly.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) An out-of-towner has fine ideas to discuss with you, so spend enough time with this person. Write to those at a distance and show your devotion, desire to see them soon. Make your life more worthwhile.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Use your intuition where the romantic side of life is concerned and you get better results. Handle your responsibilities with a smile on your face and you win. Happiness is yours for the making.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A long conversation with an associate brings forth worthwhile information that had eluded you before. Do some entertaining of all partners. Tap the mental bank and make the future brighter.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Those around you are apt to be quite upset today and would appreciate your thoughtfulness and kindness. Do something about having better health. Let professionals guide you properly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Mate may not be in the mood for fun so don't pressure to go out with you to recreational places that could be too strenuous for him or her. Concentrate on creative matters instead. Avoid one who is a troublemaker.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan how to handle those family matters in a most intelligent fashion. Quickly get rid of tensions that have built up in that most important realm of your existence — home and hearth are very vital now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Much care in motion, especially in driving on the highway, etc., is necessary if you are to avoid expense and trouble. Get rid of tensions between you and regular associates. Don't step into some needling trap.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study the right outlets so you can add much to present income, since this is what you need to get out of a slump. Improving quality of your work is also very helpful. Budget carefully.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You feel discontented, which is a sign you are not feeling well, or need new inspiration, so perk up and do your best, or get help you need. Forget any unworthy habits you may have. Replace with the finest.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people who is all heart and sentiment and will go to the aid of others at the drop of a hint, but others had better beware of trying to put something over on your youngster, otherwise they have a formidable enemy. Ideal chart for the humanitarian professions and bringing beauty and culture where it is lacking. Give good spiritual training early and teach to work, whether rich or poor.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — They're having a cage tilt this week, as they say in basketball circles. What makes it a bit different is that it's in mainland China and being videotaped by a U.S. firm.

The company is the New York-based TVS Television Network, which says it'll show the first of eight scheduled Sino-American basketball games next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. EDT on an estimated 125 U.S. stations.

It's the first such sports event—aside from those held during President Nixon's trip to mainland China—covered by an American TV company since NBC filmed the now-famous table tennis matches between U.S. and Chinese teams in April 1971.

The basketball battles are between a 12-man team of U.S. collegiate stars and the Chinese national men's team. A woman's championship team from John F. Kennedy College in Wahoo, Neb., also is on the tour and will compete against China's national women's team.

The TVS network, which got permission from the government of mainland China to tape the first game for showing in the United States, has specialized in covering U.S. collegiate sports since the mid-1960s.

TVS Vice President Alan Lubell said his company will go to Moscow to cover the World University Games which run Aug. 15-25. Often called the "collegiate Olympics," the games, involving U.S. college athletes, will include basketball, fencing, gymnastics and wrestling, among other sports.

Lubell said there'll be about a total of 10 hours of Moscow games that TVS teams will transmit for prime-time broadcasting on about 175 U.S. stations between Aug. 15 and 26. Most of it will be shown on the weekends.

He said TVS initially wanted to broadcast live-satellite coverage of the basketball matches in mainland China, but the Chinese government vetoed the idea for reasons they didn't fully explain.

Justice Offered 'On The Cuff'

LONDON (AP) — A project has been inaugurated for people who cannot afford to take small claims to court. A special court has been established by the Westminster Law Society Committee to deal with complaints from consumers who feel they've had a raw deal. A spokesman for the committee said more people now will be afforded the opportunity to bring their complaints to court without incurring huge expenses. Only an initial fee of $12 will be required to cover legal costs.
